"Benito Cereno," a tale, begun in the present the free States unless it abandons its pro-slavery latterest—very little force—and rather prosy.

Some of the sentences are almost Broughamic in their length, indistinctness, and general constructions of the sentences of the sentence of the sentences of the sentence issue, is a fanciful production, not having any great interest-very little force-and rather prosy.

Tennyson that tickled his fancy, and immediately to her Thompson, of New Jersey, her Brodhead, conceived for the poet a species of adoration that of Pennsylvania, and to her Gwin and her Weles no faults, even the most glaring-that calls ler, of California, and says these are the men halting prose elegant poetry, or rattling rhyme the natural poetic language of a warm and beautiful nature. That Tennyson has written that which ne-half of his efforts deserve the name, is not only doubtful, but extremely. The writer in Putnam quotes what he no doubt considers elegant extracts; some of them are passable, but the most entirely unpoetic, and senseless, beyond all poetic liense. "Living in the Country" is a continuation of a numurous sketch; showing up in bright colors the folly of living in the country for one who has no dea of devoting himself to a farmer's life. The other prose contributions are generally well-writen and interesting.

The editor dips into politics after the manner of the old English magazines. In this country there are enough political papers to discuss the questions of the day, and when we pick up a magazine we expect to enjoy the beautiful and elegant, unmixed with the exciting. Literature and politicsdon't oull well together-politics has no business in a nagazine or literary periodical. The poetry in his number is excessively small, not in extent only, but in spirit-not a line which a third-rate octaster might not easily manufacture.

THE YELLOW FEVER IN VIRGINIA ABATING. The news from the fever infected districts of Virginia is encouraging, the number of deaths being mall, and but few new cases occurring. A letter from Norfolk, written on Wednesday last, says: The cool weather which has prevailed for several days past has exercised a very favorble influence upon the epidemic. A review in part of Alfred Tennyson, mostly of his latest work, is an exceedingly well written that tickled his fancy, and immediately necived for the poet a species of the poet a species of the poet a species of the poet as poet of the poet of th ler, of California, and says these are the men who in the Senate of the United States risked all for the Kansas and Nebraska bill, the Union and national principles, and now stand at the gate that opens to the Temple of Freedom as faithful sentinels with flaming swords to hew in pieces the Northern Vandals that would destroy the Union. It may be involving the country in all the horrors of civil war, the dissolution of the Union of the States and the extinguishment of the fires which our ances-tors kindled on the altar of Freedom, and which they fondly hoped would burn there in unextinguishable glory forever. At such a time the country requires every man to do his duty, and it will require the united efforts of every national man to save her. Her voice comes, borne upon every wind in mingled accents of sorrow and despair, crying, help, help me, my children, ere I perish beneath the dark wave of faction and fanaticism which is threatening to engulf me. We are gratified to notice that the services of this gen Statements." What is the meaning of unqualified, in such a onnection? It is thus defined by Joseph A Gilliss. Chairman of the Police Committee of our

Common Council:

The Revision Committee further remark, with reference to the report of the Police Committee, "that it is filled with boid and unqualified statements." With reference to this assertion, as quoted from the report of the Revision Committee, I would ask what constitutes qualification in a Leota sense? and answer the inquiry by saying, 'tis the appearing of persons before those having authority to administer an oath, and after receiving the same to make their statements to that party in accordance with the obligation resing on them. This, and this alone, qualifies a witness to give testimony before a fudicial tribunal; and as the report presented by myself, as Chairman of the Police Committee, giving a detailed account as to the riots on the 6th of August last was based upon statements sworn to in the presence of the legally-constituted authorities for the State of Kentucky, I must again say that the term "unqualified," as used by the Revision Committee, is void of application.

to place and power. Sydney Smith replied thus:

A distinction, I perceive, is taken by one of the most feeble noblemen in Great Britain between persecution and deprivation of political power; whereas there is no more distinction between these two things than there is between him who makes the distinction and a booby. If I strip off the relic-covered jacket of a Catholic, and give him twenty stripes—I persecute; if I say, every-body in the town where you live shall be a candidate for incrative and honoractic office but you, who are a Catholic—I do not persecute! What bariarous nonsense is this; as if degradation was not as great an evil as bodily pain, or as severe as poverty; as if I could not be as great a tyrant by saying you shall not emjoy, as by saying you shall suffer. to place and power. Sydney Smith replied thus: tainly be an accommodation.

following is one of them, which, of itself, should as doubtful. be sufficient with every honest-minded patriot: We expected, when we joined the Order, that we were to form a new party, with national American principles, but find that the organization is but another name for Abolitionism and disunion; that it is under the control of demagogues and office-seekers, who have joined the Order to advance their own selfish ends, and not for the good of the American people; and we therefore wish to have nothing more to do with it.

The St. Louis Intelligencer says th at Sena tor Douglas' speech in that city, on the evening of the 21st ult., "fell short of public expectation," and that Sam endured but little torture under the hands of the Senator; thinks the speech a great failure. If so, it was hardly necessary for the Intelligencer to devote upwards of two columns to a notice of it. The "few skin incisions" made on Sam by the Senator were, we apprehend, very deeply felt by the subject. R. SOLOMONS; SIR: THE

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 23, 1854.

MR. SOLOMONS: Being compelled to wear S, ectacles, I have never been able toget a pair but what made my eyes ache—I have tried a great many glazses, but always failed, until I obtained a pair from you. I can see by day or candlelight for any length of time, with the greatest ease and comfort. Mrs. Wells is very much pleased with her glasses.

I remain yours, truly,
No.684 Jefferson street, next door to Preston.

MR. SOLOMONS: Sir—When you first arrived in this city, I called with Mrs. Beattie at your office, and purchased four pairs of your Patent Spectacles. We found them superior to any we had ever used before. They realized more than we could have expected. We can now see as comfortably as when a girl and boy.

I remain yours, respectfully,
J. A. BEATTIE,
MRS. J. A. BEATTIE, Fourth street.

R. SOLOMONS: ABOUT FOUR months since I purchased a pair your spectacles; d at that time could not read without them. I now id my sight so much improved by their use, that I can ad ordinary newspaper, print without them as well as could before I used spectacles.

LOUISVILLE, June 16, 1895.

MR. SOLOMONS: Dear Sir. Having been deprived of the pleasure of reading or writing for the last two years, and not having been enabled to procure any spectacles with which I could see any better than without, and which also immediately produced pain and uneasiness. I was induced, by your advertisement, to call at your office and purchased a pair of your invoved spectacles, with which I can see to read the finest print with perfect ease and comfort; I can also see with the same ease to go about my regular business. Why Females Suffer in Health. THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion, BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, One Hundreth Edition (500,000) 18mo., pp. 250.

A standard work of established reputation, found class ed in the catalogues of the great Trade Sales of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States.

Every woman can here discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, and cause of her complaint, and be spared much anxiety and suffering, as well as the unpleasantness of making known to, or making inquiry of, a physician in respect to the numberless ailments to which she is subect. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice in respect to her situaion, which she will here find. This book tells her what is the matter, and tells her what to do for it, in simple but chaste words, and such as she can understand. Those suffering from obstructions or irregularities p culiar to the female system, or from prolapsus uteri (fallng of the womb,) or from fluor albus, will each find in ts pages the means of prevention, amelioration, and arily, might be saved to every husband, if the simplest laws appertaining to the marriage state were better un-derstood. That they are better understood is traceable to that natural and almost commendable sensitiveness kat will rather suffer than consult or converse with even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar to he female only.

In a copy of "The Married Woman's Private Medical and describes her every symptom, feeling, and ailment and which she can consult at all times without violence JExtract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.

Dr. a. M. Mauriceau—My Dear Sir: My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of great anguish and saffering some months before and during confluement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave and my children left motherless. pect to me which I have conceived was possed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave and my children left motherless.

MR. Solomons—Dear Sir: I called upon you at your effice, on Fourth street, in December last, and told you hat I had purchased several pair of Spectacles at dif-ferent stores, but had never obtained any that did not cause great pain and fatigue to the eyes, but am happy to state that the pair I purchased of you suit beyond my expectations, by day and candle light. I have found my sight improve so much since I have used them, that I cannot sit down and read small print without them. Wishing you every sucess your great enterprise de serves, I remain, yours truly, S. HILLMAN. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24, 1855. MR. G. SOLOMONS-Dear Sir- Having satisfactorily tried a pair of Spectacles purchased of you, and finding them far superior to any I have ever used, in that they rest and strengthen the eye, whilst all others have painmend them to the use of all who stand in need of them.

RIVER AND WEATHER.

RIVER .- The river was at a stand all day yesterday

The fine steamer S. F. J. Trabue is the regular packet this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for New Orleans. It is the intention to run her from this port to New Orleans regularly, leaving here at stated periods. She is one of the finest boats on the river, and her officers are attentive and experienced.

Captain Sam Hildreth and his fine boat, the City of Wheeling, will leave this day at noon, for Cincinna.

We learn, from the St. Louis papers of the 2d, that there were two deaths from yellow fever on the Oceana on her way up—a passenger named George

Gen. Simpson's dispatch to Lord Panmure giving the details of the fall of Sevastopol has been received at London, but does not differ in its statements from the telegraphic dispatches previously received in London, and brought to Halifax by the West, of N. Y., and a fireman. The New Lucy has been sold to the Pacific Railroad Company, for $24,000, and will run between Hermann and St. Joseph. The river was rising at St. Louis on the 2d. There are nine new boats in process of building nati, one of them is designed to carry 1,600 STEAMBOAT BURNED.—The steamboat "F. K., Jr aptain George L. Kouns, from Yazoo river with itsels of cotton, caught fire on Tuesday, the 24th ul bout six o'clock, P. M., one mile above Ellis' Clin d'urned so rapidly that all her officers and crew (

captain George L. Aught fire on Tuesday, the 2th uit., about six o'clock, P. M., one mile above Ellis' Chiffs, and burned so rapidly that all her officers and crew (in order to save themselves) were compelled to jump overboard and cling to floating cotton bales, planks, &c.

The captain, with his enild in his arms, jumped overboard and succeeded in getting hold of a bale of cotton, when his wife followed him, and, being some distance from her, it was with the most extraordinary efforts that he succeeded in saving her.

While floating in the river, the steamer Cora No. 2, Captain D. B. Mosby, came to their assistance with the lifeboat and yawl, picking up the officers and crew, together with fourteen bales of cotton.

The clerk saved what money there was in the office, but his books and papers were destroyed. The officers and crew lost all their trunks, clothing, &c.

The "F. K., Jr." was a new, small; stern-wheel boat, built by Captain Geo. Kouns and brother, at Ironton, Ohio, and intended to run in the Red river and Ouachita trade. She was not insured.—Picksburg W hig, 28th wit.

A STEARBOAT MURDER.—At about eight o'clock this morning, a most atrocious and unprovoked marder was committed on board of the steamboat W. N. Sherman, now lying in front of Customhouse street. The particulars of the case, as we learned them from the officers of the boat, were as follows:

After the deck hands had been called to breakfast, some words passed between A. Duhl, a watchman on board the boat, and a freman named James Casey.—Eventually, Casey struck the watchman, after which Casey's partner, James Broderick, intervened in the dispute, and drawing a luge knile swore a desperate oach of vengeance. Hearing this, and finding that he was to be opposed by more than one, Duhl attempted to escape by running up into the cabin. He was, however, hotly pursued by the armed ruilian, Broderick, who chased him through the cabin and down to the boiler deck, where he caught him by the shoulder, plunging the knife with fath iorce into the cent a arresting and placing into the hands of the police, not nly the murderer but his companion Casey, who had ommenced the difficulty.

Immediately afterwards the body was conveyed to the Immediately afterwards the wew write, a jury second District Watchhouse, where, as we write, a jury second District Watchhouse, where, as we write, a jury second District Watchhouse, where has no not be blow up the Malakoff.

Touching Incident. THE DEATH BRIDAL.

"Here was the scene of the death bridal," said
Herman, as they passed a little secluded churchyard, high among the mountains.

"What was that?" inquired his companion whose attention was instantly aroused by anything that promised a legand.

thing that promised a legend.

"Rather a curious story," returned Herman;
"a sort of revival of some middle age superstition,

"a sort of revival of some middle age superstition, I believe, which took place not many years ago. I heard of it from my nurse Marguerite, who knew all the parties. Suppose, instead of proceeding to the town, we stay to-night at her chaiet; it is very little out of our way, and there is a glorious view thence, which will well repay us."

"The legend is an ample temptation," answered Vernon; and ere long they were enjoying the welcome and cordial hospitality of the old peasant. Supper being ended, the young men went out in front of the cottage, and watched with the onjoyment of artists, the splendid effects of the sunset, on the extensive view before them. The rose tints faded slowly up the snowy mountain summits, and the moon, already high in the heavens, blended a cold, blue lustre, with the warmer tints still lingering in the west.

Marguerite having finished her household labors, came to the door with her knitting; but it was not until the last gleam of sunset had faded from the sky, that Herman said:

"Marguerite, will you tell us about the death bridal?"

"Poor Aline!" said she, sighing: "she was so and a wate a content of carriages, and durability, equal to make the content of the cottage, and durability, equal to sulvive sulvive statement of carriages.

"Poor Aline!" said she, sighing; "she was so young and so fair; we had been friends from the time we could walk or speak—Claude was her cousin, but no one knew how well he loved her, till he was gone, although he had always been fond of her; but she was the favorite of the whole parish. When Aline was about sixteen, he went to scend a year with some relations: he went to spend a year with some relations

"Claude had never told her that he loved her; ne was poor, and many years would pass before he could win her. Then they were both so young, and perhaps he feared to try his fate. I always think he felt that he was not long for this world, and he would not sadden her life by any grief that ac could spare her; or perhaps mouse are could spare her; or perhaps mouse was right. But she was gone, and he had not spoken.

"Before the winter was gone, he died. When he was dead they found on his heart a little case like those people carry charms in; but it contained a lock of Aline's hair, and a flower she had given him the day she went away. We did not remove it, but laid it with him in the grave.

"In the summer Aline came home. Ah! I shall never forget how lovely she looked that day. The joy of her return, and our gladness at seeing her again, had given such life and bloom to her sweet face. We talked of one and another of our friends in the mountains, and of all she had seen and done while away, but she never mentioned and done while away because of selling out in large lots, at much reduced prices for cash or good paper. I keep, also, all kinds of Poplar Lumber, Laths, Shingles, &c. Those in want of large lots of Lumber (or small lots for cash) will save a handsome per cent. by calling on me.

others said:
"Did you not know that poor Claude is dead?"
"My Aline! she uttered but one cry, so long and bitter that it seemed her life must go with it, and

"It was long before we could bring her to herself, and through all that night she never spoke one word, but one fainting followed another until morning; then she seemed to revive a little, but so wan she looked a mere wreck of what she had been but yesterday, and in her eyes shone a strange sort of glitter, like sunlight reflected from ice, so cold and bright. At last she spoke—
"Marguerite,' said she, taking both my hands,
'I saw Claude yesterday; do not start; he stood by me when I fell; and he told me—he told me he

The Oldest Stand in Louisville.

IRS. NICHOLAS INVITES THE attention of her customers and others to her newly invented VENTILATING DIAMOND WIGS. These Wigs were invented by Richard Beck, of London, and made by one of the gentlemen in my establishment, who took the highest premium for the best Wigs on exhibition at the Industrial Exhibition, London, in 1854. They are warrnted not to shrink; (those who have worn Wigs know that the greatest comfort in a Wig is in one that will not shrink AT ALL.) besides they are so close a resemblance to nature as to defy detection. And to enable gentlemen to see the effect, a large assortment is kept on hand for inspection, any of which, if approved of save the purchaser both time and trouble, as these elegant specimens of Wigs cannot be found elsewhere. Also, a splendid assortment of Ladies' Wigs, Haif Wigs, Braids, and Curls, always on hand and made to order at the shortest notice. Brushes, Perfumery, Gloves, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods of the very latest importations.

P. S. Ladies will please remember that they can have their hair dressed at their own residences.

CAUTION.

The traveling public are cautioned against the false statements made in the advertisements of the Little Miami Railroad Company. Among the most prominent of these may be named: that their line is the quickest to the East; that there is less certainty of connections by way of Clyde to Cleveland, and that there are less changes of cars on the Pittsburg Express by one rouse thon the other. Forbearance has been exercised for weeks, on the promise that these misrepresentations should be corrected; but they are still reiterated daily in hand-bills and newspapers, making the caution necessary.
